WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

May Pass the Critical Period Safely and Comfortably by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Summit, N. J.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life and I think it is a good remedy in such a condition. I could not digest my food and had much pain and burning in my stomach after meals. I could not sleep, had backache, and worst of all were the hot flashes. I saw in the papers about Vegetable Compound and I tried it. Now I feel all right and can work better. You have my permission to publish this letter."
—VICTORIA KOPPL, 21 Oak Ridge Ave., Summit, N. J.

If you have warning symptoms such as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backache, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, inquietude, and dizziness, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin taking the medicine at once. We know it will help you as it did Mrs. Koppl.

SAYS MOVING PICTURES BENEFIT TO CHILDREN

"Is the effect of the motion picture on the youth bad, as some would have us believe?"
The question was put to Judge Ben B. Lindsay, founder of the juvenile court in Denver, Col., and probably the foremost authority on juveniles in the country. His reply was emphatic.

"Is the effect bad?" he replied.

"On the contrary, it is overwhelmingly good. It is one of the really great mediums for impressing the youth with the idea of being better. The motion picture is doing a great work, and doing it well. It is not only furnishing millions with entertainment, but it is having a beneficial effect on young and old."

To show his sincerity in thus lauding the motion picture of today, Judge Lindsay has temporarily become a screen actor. Both he and his wife "play themselves" in the current William D. Taylor production for Paramount-Artercraft. The picture is from an original story by Julia Crawford Ivers and deals with the human theme of the boy problem, "the boy" being played by young Lewis Sargent, of "Huckleberry Finn" fame.

It was Mrs. Ivers who induced Judge Lindsay to take part in the picture. She made a special trip to Denver to secure atmosphere for the picture and if possible to secure him as a member of the cast.

"At first I was dubious," says Judge Lindsay, "for it was such a radical departure. But I realized what a valuable medium the screen would be as an aid to me in my efforts to bring about a proper handling of the boy problem, and I accepted. The production is not a propaganda picture; it does not preach; but I feel sure the public will catch the message I am trying to give."

"I am a strong friend of the motion picture. Those who assail it are, I believe, mistaken."

"Possibly there have been instances where a motion picture had a bad effect on juveniles, but those instances have been so rare as to be negligible. What if a boy does play hooky to see a movie show? Is base ball a menace because boys once in a while sneak away from school to see a game?"

"I have heard people say that boys learn to commit crimes from seeing them done on the screen. Never in all my experience with boys do I recall any boy telling me he did wrong because of a motion picture."

"Undoubtedly many motion pictures have not been of as high standard as they should have been. But the big majority are of a very high order. And as pictures are now the general effect is entirely good."

"I COULD NOT ASK TO FEEL BETTER"

Had Terrible Nervous Chills And Could Hardly Digest a Thing Before Taking Tanlac

"I just couldn't ask to feel better than I do now since I've taken Tanlac," says Miss Oma Yates, a popular foreman for the Martin Broom factory, living at 426 East Jacob Street, Louisville, Ky.

"I just hate to think of the awful condition I was in only a few weeks ago with my stomach badly out of order and my nerves almost completely broken down. I had a poor appetite and even the light food I did eat disagreed with me and caused me awful suffering afterwards. I often had terrible nervous chills and my sleep was broken and restless. Every morning I felt so weak and worn-out I hardly had strength enough to go to my work."

"My uncle had been taking Tanlac and was so well pleased with it he advised me to try it. I have taken only three bottles but I have improved so wonderfully that I am already feeling like a different person altogether. My appetite is just fine and I am eating anything and everything I please without suffering afterwards at all. My nerves are as steady and calm as can be and I have not had a nervous chill since I first started taking Tanlac. I have a splendid color and I am enjoying perfect rest and sleep every night. My work is now a real pleasure because I am feeling strong and healthy and full of life and energy."

Tanlac is sold in Paris at the People's Pharmacy.

DON'T NEED 'EM ANYHOW

Forty-three storekeeper - gaugers will leave the Government service August 20, under the provisions of the retirement act recently signed by the President, which provides for retirement with pension for civil service employees reaching the age of seventy years.

"Many of the men have been in the service for more than twenty years and have won a well-earned rest," said J. A. Anderson, deputy collector in the office of Collector Ellwood Hamilton. "Just what method will be worked out in regard to the pensions I am unable to say at the present time. The men have been receiving from four to five dollars a day for the time they are at work, but there are some days when they should not be assigned. In my opinion the pension will be given on the basis salary. It is probable that a member of the pension bureau will come to Louisville to arrange the schedule of pensions and the method of distribution."

CANDIDATE'S ELECTION EXPENSES.

(Hopkinsville New Era)

Now that politics is warming up, this tale, from the scrapbook of a Hopkinsville lady, is apropos. It's the sworn statement of a Georgia man beaten in the primaries for County Commissioner:

"Lost 1,349 hours of sleep thinking about the election. Lost two front teeth and a whole lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one beef, four shoats and five sheep to a county barbecue. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, $5 cash and 13 baby rattles. Kissed 126 babies. Kindled 14 kitchen fires. Put up 4 stover. Walked 4,007 miles. Shook hands with 9,508 persons. Told 10,101 lies, and talked enough to make, in print, 1,000 volumes. Attended 16 revival meetings, and was baptized 4 times by immersion and twice some other way. Contributed $50 to foreign missions, and made love to nine grass widows. Hugged forty-nine old maids. Got dog-bite 39 times, and was defeated."

Strong Light Kills Lobsters.
Lobsters are very sensitive to cold and light, being accustomed to the comparatively steady temperature and the obscure light of the ocean bottom. Exposure to strong sunlight is soon fatal to them.
